The RDN backtest for EVO_WEBIDEA_v2101 shows a negative ROI of -5.59% and a Sharpe ratio of -0.31, indicating the strategy destroyed value. The zero percent win rate across only three trades highlights a complete failure in entry logic or market fit. Statistical confidence is virtually nonexistent with such a tiny sample size, making the results meaningless for predictive modeling. The maximum drawdown of 14.78% further confirms poor risk management. The immediate next step is to abandon this signal logic and redesign the entry criteria using robust historical data before any further testing.
