ANALYST NOTE

Hera local LLM

The VOXR GG1_RSI_Sniper backtest reveals severe underperformance with a -2.01% loss and a -0.05 Sharpe ratio, indicating a strategy that fails to generate risk-adjusted returns. A mere 33.3% win rate across only 3 trades provides insufficient statistical confidence to validate any edge or signal reliability for this asset. The 11.32% maximum drawdown suggests excessive volatility exposure relative to the tiny sample size, which is typical for low-frequency sniper approaches. We must expand the evaluation window and increase trade counts before considering any parameter adjustments.
